Authorization to Publish – Anthology 2021

When you pay the fee to submit your work to the CWC Sacramento anthology, you will also be attesting to the fact that you are the legal owner of the material to be published, and that you have full and unlimited right to grant authority to publish. You are authorizing the club and its publisher (I Street Press, Sacramento) to publish said work in the 2021 anthology. Such material will be a commercial work and offered for sale. You release CWC Sacramento and I Street Press from all claims in connection with the publication of this work. The author may submit this work for publication to other sources.
