

Dusk Creeps toward Nature's Womb

Within each woman
Time passes.
The cycles change.
Regular rhythm ends.
Altered moods spawn
storms of emotion.
Delicate tissues dry.
Fevered nights disrupt sleep.

“I’m burning up.”

On the planet outside,
El Niño and La Niña rule.
Weather patterns change.
The climate becomes hotter.
Glaciers melt.
Shriveled grasses and
crisp leaves spark.
Wildfires grow
out of control.
Hurricanes and typhoons
spawn tornados at their edges.

What will we behold
in nature's night?
